

SEEKING BOARD MEMBERS

The CEBC Board of Directors is seeking two new Board member candidates. Becoming a CEBC Board member is an excellent leadership development opportunity, and an opportunity to be part of a growing organization that strives to support and strengthen the capacity of Christian educators so they can better thrive in their practice.

Who is a CEBC Board Member?

CEBC Board members are mature followers of Jesus. They carry themselves with integrity and are big picture thinkers – open-minded team players who like to solve problems, are thoughtful, and discerning. Board members are trustworthy, intuitive, and articulate. They are dependable and have capacity to serve and engage with the work of CEBC.

Representing CEBC's Members

In an effort to represent members across BC, one Board member candidate should live on Vancouver Island.

Ideally, to have a well-rounded and skilled board, candidates might also:

- be an early learning educator, or
- understand basic finances (revenue, expenses, budgeting, investing, and reading a financial statement), or
- be interested or experienced in employment law or legal issues related to educators, social media, web design, marketing or advertising

Commitment

Board members are expected to attend meetings and the Annual General Meeting during InspirED. Meetings are held four to five times a year, either in person at Trinity Western University or online. TOC and travel expenses are covered.
